

Services Plus is known for trying our hand at any opportunity that is presented to us. We have always been good at creating innovative solutions that revolutionized how things are done. Our customers are able to rely on us to make their ideas a reality, and maintain a level of quality and efficiency that continuously exceeds their expectations.

Two of our existing customers were dealing with large seasonal demand projects that they could not fulfill themselves and asked us to help. Both of the projects had very specific production requirements that needed 50,000 sq. ft. of dedicated space, 100 additional employees per shift and a high level of training, accountability, and attention to detail. Without hesitation, we received all of the necessary materials and recruited the personnel that would be needed to run the project successfully. We finished within the strict deadlines the first time running the projects, and were able to increase our capability to produce more of the products for years to come. We ran these two projects for several years anywhere from two weeks to two months. From this opportunity we created a new training system of work instruction by position. This system enables us to exceed quality expectations, while having greater production efficiencies. In conjunction with the high shipping volume with these projects, UPS located their Green Bay East location adjacent to our facility and has remained there to this day.

We value the importance of finding the most efficient and innovative processes to challenge our own capabilities. By doing this, we are able to stay ahead of the curve and prove to our customers time and time again that we can make any project successful. With a detailed work ethic, flexible capabilities, and quality, we exceed customer efficiency expectations.
